Where would you place yourself?

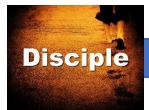

No belief at all Christianity is not true.

Cultural Believer

Cultural believer: "I believe Christianity is kind of true" but other religions might be true as well. Christianity seems to be a good fit for me.

Choice

Default "choice"

Christianity is True. Jesus Christ is Lord and Savior. He is God who died for my sins. I'm learning to be a follower of Jesus. To know him, love him, and follow his commands.

I guess Christianity is true and it's good to go to church. I do it because it seems right and it's what my parent's did. Going to church and maybe helping out is all that is asked of me

Christianity is vitally True. Because the gospel really the power of God for salvation unto all who believe, I share the gospel message with others. But it's not just about evangelism. I walk along side others in their faith; I not only encourage them but I challenge them to learn and grow to be disciples and disciple makers.
